Falck wins ambulance tender in Bonn

From July 1, 2018, Falck will provide emergency rescue and ambulance services in Bonn. Falck won the contract in Bonn in a Europe-wide tender.

A total of 40 Falck employees will work at Fire Station 3 in Bonn-Bad Godesberg and at a dedicated location. There, they will occupy a total of 9 rescue and patient transport vehicles of the regular rescue service.

Furthermore, Falck provides resources for the extended rescue service, for example in larger emergency situations.

- We are happy that we continue to expand our business in an important market like the German. Our high-quality operation aims not only at satisfying our customers and patients in Bonn but also at becoming an employer of choice for 40 new colleagues, says managing director of Falck Germany, Lars Tue Toftild.

Falck is currently looking for rescue professionals for our new location in Bonn. Click here to read more and apply.
